Students may take courses that will count toward major, minor, or GE requirements. Some programs include UCSC courses!

Departments have different processes for reviewing & approving courses to satisfy major/minor requirements. Students should consult Requests for courses to satisfy GE requirements must follow the CCI petition process.

Advisors must sign the Global Learning Approval Form as part of the application for UCEAP and UCSC Partner Programs.

Grades from abroad can take up to 2-3 months after a program end date to show up on a student's transcript, except for programs with UCSC courses.

Some programs do not have course syllabi available until closer to the term's start date, while with others, the courses are set.

Financial Aid applies to all UC programs.

Some programs cost less than a term or even a year at UCSC.

Students can and should request a financial aid estimate to see what their projected aid will be for their program BEFORE they apply to make an informed decision.

UCSC students earn more than $150,000 in global learning scholarships annually.

Visit our Affording Global Learning webpage to learn more about program costs, financial aid, budgeting, scholarships, and other tools to afford a global learning experience.

GLAF = Global Learning Approval Form. This is a signed google sheet that the student’s major/minor and college advisors sign.

The only program with a competitive application process is UCDC. Otherwise, as long as the student is eligible, applies by the deadline with a complete application and there is still space in the program, they are most likely going to get a spot!
